dedication

To Miss Matilda Skinner, whose guidance, in the essentials of American democracy, has proved so valuable, both in our search for an academic foundation and a maintenance of unified patriotism, we dedicate this, the Fall Telescope of Nineteen Forty.

principal's message

The mind of man is finite, and for that reason man is all too prone to place bounds and limits on his ideas and on his institutions. It is due to this quality of the human mind that it has been customary from time out of mind to regard school as a separate and distinct stage of life, and to regard graduation from school as implying the end of that stage and the commencement of another—the stage of REAL LIFE.

Perhaps there was a day when there was a measure of truth in this conception. When youth stepped from the portals of a middle-age monastery or convent and emerged into secular life, there was a definite break in the manner of living and thinking.

Certainly this is not true of the American high school of today. For high school is ALL AMERICA of the ages fifteen to eighteen. It is not preparation for life—it IS life. And life is a continuous process. Inasmuch as you, members of the class of January, 1941, are good Galileans, you are also good Americans. And though you graduate this month, you are still part of Galileo and Galileo travels with you.

We stand with you, and are proud of you, for YOU ARE AMERICA!

r. o. t. c. resume

Now, more than ever before, American youth is conscious of the tremendous responsibility that has been placed on its shoulders. The National Defense program calls for complete coöperation from both adults and youth. At Galileo, the R.O.T.C. has accomplished measurable results. The R.O.T.C. is composed of male students who learn reading, first aid, characteristics of rifles, how to operate different guns, and many other military maneuvers. The policy and history of the government is also included in the course of training.

All work and no play would make Jack a dull boy, and there are instances when strict discipline is forgotten. Every year the "Officers" and "Non-Coms" have a football game. (This season the Officers won, 18-0.) Then there is the socially important Saber Club dance, usually held at some local hotel.

The competition for the various top-ranking positions is so keen that it stimulates a general interest in the organization. The itinerary of the R.O.T.C. is usually varied and interesting. Many parades, drills, and mass competitions furnish opportunities for the men to show their training.

Galileo's highly vaunted eleven—at the start of the current season—managed to finish in the fifth slot, with a .500 average, four wins and four losses. Pre-season dope had placed the Lions near the top, but the loss of two top-notch backs was a severe blow to the team. They won the first, lost the next three, but bounced back in their last four games, winning three out of four. Individual performances are hard to pick, but plunging Fred Cirimele was the sparkplug, while Bob Peters, backbone of the line, was the most underrated player in the loop.

Annexing the mythical championship, the Galileo goofs (or reserves, as they are sometimes referred to) completed another successful season, with an impressive record of four wins and one loss.

successful soccer season

Galileo's soccer team ended the season in second place, tied with Lowell. The Lions played six games, winning four, tying two, and losing one. Mission, the only team to defeat the Lions, were the eventual winners of the championship.

SOCCER

lightweight basketball

One of the most disastrous seasons in Galileo history was recently completed by the 110 and 120 pound basketball quintets, as each unit garnered one win apiece.

The Lion lightweights fell before Poly in the first game 16-9 and 21-19. Only an overtime resulted in a Poly victory in the 120-pound encounter.

A second loss to Balboa by scores of 29-12 and 18-11 was suffered by the Galileo Cubs. Miyahara and Wong starred for the Purple and Orange.

Flashing signs of a determined comeback, the "midgets" swept aside Sacred Heart's quintets by scores of 23-19 and 19-16. Domerque and Wong tallied eight points each for their respective teams.

The lightweights suffered their third defeat at the hands of two strong Washington teams on the first trip away from home.

One of the most successful years in girls' sports history is now but a memory. New friends were made, and many old friendships were renewed.

Basketball, volleyball, badminton, and ice skating all came in for their share of the spotlight. The various managers had anticipated a usual season, but instead got a near record-breaking year. Golf and horseback-riding were doubled along with the others.

The main event of the term was the semi-annual "Play Day" for girls, held in the gym on December 12.
